ROOSEVELT IS FOR PREPAREDNESS; HIS PAPER READ TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—A paper by Theodore Roosevelt on the subject of military preparedness today was read by Professor Ross, of the University of Wisconsin, before the American Sociological Society. Roosevelt said:

"At present, in this world, and for the immediate future, it is certain that the only way to successfully oppose the might which is the servant of wrong is by means of might, which is the servant of right."

Roosevelt called attention to China, Belgium and Persia, saying that these nations fell because their leaders had the same ideas as those that Henry Ford and David Starr Jordan entertain. He said:

"When we discover how right living may be spread so universally that cities like Chicago and New York may abolish their police, then and not until then can war be abolished."

Roosevelt called the non-militaristic comic. He ridiculed those holding force immoral. He branded opposition to an armed force the same as opposition to constables, sheriffs and police.

Dispatches in today's papers state that it is understood at Washington that the War Department will urge upon Congress the proposition that it is vital that a definite statement of military policy for the United States be put through at this session, and that machinery be created for the organization of a citizen army, voluntarily to begin with, but based ultimately on universal military service.

Local opinion in regard to the universal service idea differs. Several people who were interviewed today are heartily in favor of universal service.

Today's visit in this city of General C. W. Thomas, the Adjutant of the National Guard of California, offered an opportunity to obtain from him his views in regard to universal service.

"I am absolutely and irrevocably committed to the idea of universal military training. I do not think that the word 'compulsory' should be used in this connection because I do not believe that any true citizen of the United States will ever have to be forced to do that which his citizenship obligates him to do. I do not think it will be any more necessary to compel a man to do military service than it will to compel him to vote or to exercise his other prerogatives as a citizen."

"I am a great admirer of the Swiss system. Each Swiss when he becomes 19 years of age, takes an examination, both mental and physical. In Switzerland fifty per cent of those who take the examinations fail to pass. Those who are eligible are given military training for about six months during the first year. During succeeding years the time that they must give to training is decreased."

"The Swiss system is admirable for the reason that the men are not taken away from their business for great periods at a time. The German and French systems, on the other hand, compel all men who are physically able to devote a certain number of years without intermission to service."

"The United States should have a body of trained men available when needed. Whether this body of men be called a citizen army or a continental army makes no difference."

"I do not believe that universal service in this country would entail any danger as far as causing the United States to go to war is concerned. Through our democratic form of government the power to declare war on another nation is not vested in one or two men. This country never would go to war unless it would be the will of the people."

"Talks I have had with other adjutant Generals from the Middle West and East as well as my observation on the Coast convince me that the people of California are seriously considering the question of preparedness. Many Californians who, a year and a half ago, did not think that a great war such as is raging in Europe at present, was possible, have had their eyes opened. However, I think that the majority of Californians, in spite of their realization of the need of preparedness, do not think there is any

BEGIN FIGHT TO SAVE STATE'S SWEET WINE INDUSTRY

Solons Say 55 Cent Brandy
Tax Already Has Had Doleful Effect

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Lest California's sweet wine industry be wrecked, California congressmen today began work in a fight against the present 55 cent tax on brandy used in fortifying the wine. They have decreed this must be repealed when new revenue legislation is taken up after the first of the year to provide money to meet the nation's preparedness program. Already the tax has had a doleful effect, say the leaders. Hence, the state delegation is ready to fight hard. Several proposals for changes in the taxation system are under consideration.

Claim Revenue Loss

Normally, California produces 19,000,000 gallons of sweet wines annually. It is estimated that the 1915 production, on which the 55 cent tax was only 3,000,000 gallons, and that the revenues raised amounted to only $250,000 against an expected yield of $2,250,000. This is cited to show that the tax has made business unprofitable and has driven the wine makers into other lines.

"One result of the tax has been to force many makers of sweet wine to manufacture dry wine, and a consequent decline in the price," said Representative of California. "Again, it did grave injury to the raisin industry of the state, because it threw on the market great quantities of grapes unfit for drying and packing, thus compelling the raisin industry to submit either to a great over-production of raisins or to buy these grapes and make them into wine to keep them out of the raisin market."

Agree on Program

California wine growers after conferences with their representatives in congress have agreed upon the following program:

First, to demand a repeal of the fortifying tax of 55 cents in its entirety, and of the 8 cent stamp tax as well. In lieu thereof, it is proposed that all sweet wines on hand and all sweet wines made in the future be taxed by the government at the time of sale, on a gallonage basis, according to the following schedule:

Dry wines having an alcoholic content not greater than 13 per cent, shall not be taxed. Wines, sweet or dry, having an alcoholic content of more than 13 per cent and not less than 15 per cent, two and a half cents per wine gallon. Wines with an alcoholic content of 15 per cent and not exceeding 24 per cent, 10 cents per wine gallon.

URGES LEAGUE OF NEUTRAL NATIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—In an address that brought forth the warmest applause from the delegates, Dr. David Jayne Hill announced yesterday to the Pan-American Scientific Congress that he favors a union of neutral nations.

His advocacy of a league followed close upon the failure of the officials of the administration Monday to bring the subject to the formal attention of the delegates.

In political circles here, it is predicted that the Republicans may make the endorsement of a league of neutrals a campaign issue, particularly as the present administration apparently has endeavored to block all discussion of it.

Dr. Hill, who was ambassador to Germany under President Taft, minister to Switzerland and the Netherlands under President Roosevelt, and Assistant Secretary of State under President McKinley, is high in the Republican councils. Politicians whose eyes are focused on the 1916 elections regard the view expressed by Dr. Hill as not only his own but that of his party.

Seventeen Carloads of Cattle
Fattened On Beet Tops
Sent to Market

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 29.—It may seem strange to protect concrete piling with lumber bulkheads, nevertheless that is what the city has been compelled to do with the first four concrete piles of the pier outside of the main bulkhead. It is at this point that the most severe action of the tides is felt in the constant removal of sand shifting either to the beach or from the beach out to sea. The constant erosion of the sand upon the piles has worn them considerably and it became apparent that it was only a matter of time when they would become sufficiently weakened to make the pier unsafe. Consequently each of the four piling has been enclosed inside of what may be termed an individual bulkhead. These protecting bulkheads will be adequate for a long time and when sufficiently worn can be removed and others put in their places.

Fattened Cattle
Seventeen carloads of fat cattle for the Los Angeles market were shipped from Huntington Beach last week by Russell brothers. The cattle were fattened mainly on beet tops.

HUNTINGTON BEACH
NOW THAT BONDS ARE VOTED, TALK BUYING
PIPELINES NOW USED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 29.—A new stage in the proceedings for better gas service was reached Tuesday when the proposition to bond the city in the sum of $20,000 to install a distributing system was carried by a majority of over 18 to 1, the total vote being 945 for and 19 against. No one had expected such an overwhelming vote for the anti-bond side, which was what noisy and while there did not seem to be any great number of them, they made noise enough to cause some uneasiness in the minds of the promoters of the bonds.

A mass meeting was held at the city hall Monday evening for the purpose of making final arrangements to carry to the polls as many voters as possible.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS CLOGGED WITH WASTE?

It is no longer necessary for any one to suffer with that headachy, all-run-down feeling that is often the result of kidney trouble.

It is no longer necessary for you to contend with disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff or swollen joints or the heart-wrenching miseries that follow as a result of neglected or poorly working kidneys. Solvax quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Solvax is a wonderful discovery that has always been so uniformly successful that every package is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve the worst case of kidney disorder.

Your money back if you want it. It is the way Rowley Drug Co., the popular druggists, are selling this great kidney remedy. A guarantee like that speaks eloquently for the merit of Solvax.

Do not suffer another minute. Solvax will relieve you. If it doesn't, tell Rowley Drug Co. that you want your money back and they will cheerfully refund it.—Advertisement.

sible. A large number of machines were running all day in the interest of the bonds and there was no organized opposition.

The vote was not large, not much over one-third of the voting population reaching the polls, but it was so decisive that nothing short of unanimity could have been much more conclusive.

A number of questions have already arisen over the disposition of the funds to be received from the sale of the bonds and it is not expected that any such unanimity will prevail as to the details as has appeared in the general proposition.

There are some who are decidedly opposed to taking over any part of the present distributing system at any price. There are others who are opposed to any other plan than that of buying the pipelines already installed. There are some who claim that the mains were not properly laid and that the laterals were composed of rotten and unsatisfactory pipes. The city trustees at different times have expressed themselves differently as to the policy which they proposed to follow so that the whole matter remains to be threshed out.

Representatives of the bonding company are said to have made a strenuous effort to defeat the bonds during the past few days of the campaign as they expected the bonds of the company would deteriorate in value unless the plant were assured of continued operation.

The plant has given service equal to the best in its history since it became clear that the city was in earnest about a new regime. It is expected that the city will declare the franchise of the company forfeited on account of previous unsatisfactory service and that a proposition from the company to sell its distributing system will be considered upon its merits. Some of the pipelines, however, are believed to be inadequate to supply the entire city and that new pipes will therefore have to be laid in some portions of the city at least.

The present bond issue is believed to be sufficient to supply a distributing system adequate for present needs although additions will doubtless have to be made at some future time as the city grows. It is hoped that the municipal control of the business will show a credit balance which will be sufficient to make extensions as needed.

The only proposition in connection with municipal gas distribution that has received any consideration has been the purchase of natural gas at the city limits from the Southern Counties Gas Company, the gas coming from the Fullerton fields either via Santa Ana or Garden Grove.

ORANGE TAKES GAME 48 TO 31

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—The Orange Athletic Club basketball team made a successful invasion of San Bernardino last evening, defeating the crack Y. M. C. A. team of that city by a score of 48 to 31.

The game was tucked away by a slashing rally in the last half after San Bernardino had gained a lead of one point in the first half, which ended 19 to 18. In the second period the teams struggled on even terms until about the middle of the half when the Orange team forged steadily ahead and piled up a big lead.

Orange played without Hogan, the regular center, and was further crippled when the San Bernardino referee evinced a marked activity in calling fouls and Thompson and Pister were thrown out of the game for making personal fouls.

MONDAY START
REGISTRATION
FOR YEAR 1916

County Clerk Has Notified
Old Deputies to Appear at Office For Blanks

Next Monday the Great Register for 1916 will be opened, and the registration for the 1916 elections will be started. All registrations that have been made since Jan. 1, 1914, automatically become void so far as value for the coming primaries and general election is concerned.

County Clerk Williams has secured blanks so that registration can start at the earliest possible moment. He has sent notices to those who were deputies under him in 1914 and 1915, notifying them that the new registration will start on Monday, Jan. 3. Williams has notified those deputies who want to do registering in 1916 to appear at his office on Monday for their blanks and for their instructions.

The registration blanks that have been printed provide a place for voters to designate their party affiliations. Williams was the first county clerk in the state to decide to accept designations at the time of registration. After a conference with the district attorney's office, Williams concluded that the law is such that party designations are required, and he had his blanks printed accordingly. Soon afterward other county clerks reached the same conclusion, and now, according to morning dispatches, every county clerk in the state has decided to provide for a designation of party affiliation.

THE LESSON OF 1915

It is customary for many newspapers at the close of a year, to print a record of events happening in the twelve months. These reviews are instructive, but at best they convey little suggestion of the real spirit of a period of time.

History seems one long record of wars, battles, personal conflicts of kings and emperors. These are not the most vital facts. The really significant events are the progress of education, individual liberty, political democracy, scientific discovery, technical arts, invention, economic prosperity of the common people, advance of moral ideas. The historian may not say much on some of these points.

What will be the great events of 1915, as seen by the future historian? They would hardly be any battles, for these have not been decisive. The triumphs of armies, candidates, parties, laws, often seem at the time to mark a great era and assure human betterment, yet such hopes often prove illusory. Real progress is very intangible, a thing of the human spirit.

It would seem as if 1915 and its events must strongly emphasize one idea, the value of systematic, disciplined organization, working in unity for community ends. Disciplined unity has enabled Germany to win marvelous successes. It has enabled France, with its smaller population, to make a showing that many people would have thought impossible for a democratic country. Lack of unity and discipline has made the English results disappointing.

This is an idea that applies to the greatest nation and the smallest village alike. Negative criticism destroys power. The people who seek their own advancement, regardless of how such advancement affects the whole community, defeat their own ends. They share in the ill results of the community inefficiency which they do so much to bring about.

JUST A-RAMBLING

By the Editor

One of the marvelously beautiful drives in Orange county is that from Santa Ana to San Juan Capistrano, over the smooth-surfaced undulating curves of the state highway. That is, it is smooth all the way and undulating and curving part of the way.

Probably most of the readers of the Register are as familiar with this drive as I am, and as keenly appreciative of its beauties; on the other hand, I fancy that many of them have never been over the road at all.

Out on the San Joaquin ranch the view is characterized by vastness. The psychological effect is a feeling of freedom. There is nothing to obstruct the vision, nothing to confine or restrict movement. Those who are habitually cooped up in house or office feel like birds let out of a cage, and their souls soar away on the wings of the morning.

On the lower or southern stretches of the road there is a continuous and kaleidoscope sweep of curves and contours as beautiful as ever dream of poet or painter was.

When I took the drive about ten days ago, the hills were just beginning their annual greening, so that those in the distance, with the late afternoon sun shining upon them, seemed carpeted with emerald velvet, shot with gleams of gold and purple, while on the nearer hills, in shadow, the scant vegetation blended with brown stubble or bare ground to produce an entirely different aspect, and a striking color contrast.

After a drive over the Mission valley, and a call on Judge Richard Egan, we enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner at Hotel Las Rosas. And incidentally I want to say in all sincerity that I have never eaten better food or had it more satisfactorily served than that dinner at Hotel Las Rosas. Even the most gastronomically fastidious need not hesitate about taking dinner at San Juan Capistrano, if willing to pay a dollar per. And I am told that good dinners may be had at several other places in the Mission town for less money.

After dinner we drove up San Juan Canyon, about half way to San Juan Hot Springs. The road is very good; smoother and with easier grades, as far as we went, than the Santiago Canyon road above the County Park. Indeed, I understand the Santiago Canyon road is quite rough.

San Juan Canyon is very beautiful; in general aspect, in its lower reaches, much like the lower parts of the other canyons in Orange county, but quite different in landscape detail. At various points splendid views of the Mission Valley and the sea are obtained.

Coming back to San Juan Capistrano, we drove all over the Mission valley, which is much more extensive than a mere passing through on the state highway would indicate. In dry weather the roads are good, but they would certainly be muddy in wet weather and for several days after rain. There are many narrow lanes and private roads, and the general aspect of the settlement is quaint, peaceful, prosperous. The psychological atmosphere is that of the old-time California. The soul-song it sings is that of "The days of old,

The days of gold,
The days of '49."

Of course the old Mission sings a much older and a vastly different song.

The only modern notes are struck by the state highway, Frank Forster's beautiful house on the hill, just west of the old Mission, and the beautiful new home of Miss Blanch Doll on the high point overlooking both valley and sea, about a mile below the town.

I must tell you about Miss Doll's home. It is surpassingly beautiful in itself, and the views of ocean, valley and mountains one gets from its verandas, windows and grounds are at least as fine as, if not finer than, anything I have ever seen. Of course I have seen more imposing mountain scenery than the view one gets at Miss Doll's of Saddleback; but the view of valley and nearby hills, the outlook upon the ocean, and especially the COMBINATION of views in EVERY direction—they are certainly unsurpassed.

I shall not attempt to describe these views for the very excellent reason that I know I cannot do so at all adequately.

Miss Doll's house is reached by a private road winding up the great hill, or seashore bluff, leaving the Laguna cliffs road just a little this side of where the road crosses San Juan Creek on the pantoon bridge. All who have gone to Santa Diego by way of Laguna will understand this direction. To look at the house from below, or even after its grounds are reached, it isn't impressive. Its size is dwarfed by the huge hill which it crowns; and so perfectly is its architecture and coloring harmonized with its surroundings, that it seems a natural part of the landscape. But once inside the house one gets a true sense of its really big dimensions, beautiful proportions and artistic finishings and decorations. It contains an art gallery wonderfully lighted, indirectly, either by the sun or by electricity. For the electric lighting of this gallery over 140 lights are used. Some of the best pictures on its walls are Southern California landscapes and marine and seashore views by Gardner Simon of New York and Laguna. Miss Doll was one of the few who had the artistic perception and economic judgment to buy Mr. Simon's pictures when they could be had for hundreds of dollars instead of the thousands they now cost.

Miss Doll's grounds and buildings are lighted by a private electric light and power plant, and are supplied with water by a private pumping plant, located in the valley.

I have thus made special mention of Miss Doll's home because it is an object lesson on the great residential possibilities of the seashore hills between Laguna and Serra. They are marvelously beautiful, both in themselves and in the views they afford; and the climatic conditions could not be better. Miss Doll is a woman of large wealth and she has traveled extensively, yet she elects to make her home on one of these beautiful and prolific hills.

What War Moves Mean

By J. W. T. Mason.

Written for the United Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Withdrawal of Indian troops from France, announced yesterday was due to their comparative failure as fighters when they faced artillery. When confronted by these modern weapons, they lacked moral stamina.

Apparently Sir Douglas Haig made their removal his first important decision since he became commander-in-chief of the west front.

White troops hereafter will be concentrated on the western front and the Indians where the demoralizing effect of artillery is not so extreme. Difficulties of transport make it impossible to move large mortars to Mesopotamia and the Suez canal, hence it may be that this is the site selected for the Indians' operations. There probably is no truth in reports that the British are sending these forces to India to subdue a mutiny, for if England desired to end such a mutiny, she undoubtedly would dispatch loyal white troops. Reports concerning the Indian situation come by way of Constantinople, the most untrustworthy source of information.

SLAYER TAKEN BEFORE HIS DYING MOTHER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—The plea of his dying mother that she be allowed one last moment with her son, Felipe Giardina, in the county jail, charged with the murder of Antonio la Piana, ten years ago, was answered yesterday.

Detective Boyd, who arrested Giardina in Fresno ten days ago, and Deputy Sheriff Dunison took the man from jail to the home of his mother on East Ninth street and there, in front of the house, unlocked the handcuffs that held him. Then he was taken indoors.

The meeting was a touching one, made grim by the presence of death and the two officers, outside the door, their revolvers in their hands ready to shoot if Giardina tried to escape. The aged woman did not know that her son was a prisoner, who had tacitly confessed the killing of another Italian.

When the visit was over the prisoner again manacled, and sobbing, was returned to his cell. The death of his mother is expected momentarily.

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Montgomery Ward has sold her beautiful winter home, corner of Madeline drive and South Orange Grove avenue, to Willis T. Knowlton, wealthy lumberman of Saginaw, Mich. The consideration was $10,000.

PARTY LOST ON DESERT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Advices received today from Barstow indicate that E. H. Thompson and a party of three, who left Los Angeles a week ago for the purpose of inspecting lands located in Death Valley, have lost their way and are wandering aimlessly about on the desert.

No particulars have been received aside from the fact that the men have disappeared. A searching party left Barstow this morning for the purpose of rescuing Thompson and his companions.

BERNHARDT TRAVELS

ANDERNOS, France, Dec. 29.—Sarah Bernhardt left here yesterday for Paris, on her way to London, where it is expected she will recite "The Cathedral," which she does seated in a chair. She has recovered from her severe attack of bronchitis.

DEATHS CAUSED BY
AERO BOMB SHOCKS

KANSAS CITY.—Surgeons in English hospitals who have attended victims of Zeppelin raids give remarkable facts regarding the work of bombs launched from aircraft. Apart from their explosive force missiles dropped from a height of a mile or two gain such momentum that they do great damage by their disturbance of the air.

Some of those killed have met their death from the shock of explosions without being hit by any fragments of shell or sustaining wounds. Persons have lost legs and arms from the same cause. A large proportion of those killed in the streets and a majority of the wounded have received their wounds from broken glass.

More persons in the London area have been killed or wounded in the streets than in buildings. Notwithstanding the warnings of the government that they should stay indoors the inhabitants persist in crowding into the streets, running to windows and going to the house-tops when the word that Zeppelins are coming is passed around.

KANSAS SCHOOL HEAD
DOES OWN MILKING

EMPORIA, Kan.—It is said that President Thomas W. Butcher of the State Normal at Emporia is the only president of a large institution of learning who keeps his own cow and, at least sometimes does the milking himself.

"I am going to teach my son, Tom, the dignity of labor," the president is quoted as saying. "I am going to teach him to milk a cow just as I learned it when I was a boy. I want him to learn that work with the hands is worth while and is to be respected. It is not often that I let things encroach upon the milking hour."

Coming Thursday to Clunes for a four days' run.

Willard Mack, the Distinguished Dramatic Star Appearing in "Aloha Oe," a New Triangle-Key Bee Play.

AMUSEMENTS

Clune's new bill opening tomorrow for a four days run certainly looks attractive. Dorothy Borland, the girl whose songs make everybody happy, will feature an all star program.

The Spanish Troubadours in artistic dancing and Ethel Barnes' performing bears will delight the hearts of the kiddies. "Aloha," the best Triangle feature yet offered, and Raymond Hitchcock in Village Scandal will round the biggest and best show ever offered for ten cents.

"The Bird of Paradise." Richard Walton Tully's Hawaiian drama which will be seen at the Grand Opera House for the second time on Tuesday, January 4th, is known as the most popular play that has been seen in California in years. One of the reasons of its popularity is that it might be called strictly a product of California, as the author of the play is an Oakland man, the producer Oliver Morosco, is known as the "man who went from California to the East and made the East sit up and take notice, and the little lady who is playing the leading role of Luana, is also an Oakland girl. The story of the play deals with the love of an Hawaiian princess for an American, whom she finally marries and he eventually kills her out and she returns to her native people and gives herself as a human sacrifice to save them from destruction from the volcano.

The scenic equipment of the piece plays a very important part and each and every scene is as faithful to the real scenery of Hawaii as the scenic artist can paint it. The last scene showing Mt. Kilauwea in violent eruption is said to be one of the most realistic scenes that has ever been put upon any stage. Another pleasant feature of this interesting play is the singing and playing of the band of native Hawaiian singers. The company comes direct from a two weeks' engagement at the Morosco, Los Angeles.

At the West End

The infinite beauty of "Madame Butterfly," in which the Famous Players Film Company is starring the exquisite Mary Pickford at the West End Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, places this Paramount Picture among the few really great productions which have ever been given to the motion picture public. The foremost producers have again scored a triumph by the masterly manner in which the film version of this celebrated tragedy has been presented. Every detail of staging is correct and artistic in the extreme. It breathes the very spirit, life and atmosphere of Japan.

Mary Pickford, upon whom the burden of the play falls, has another admirable opportunity of proving how capable and gifted an artist she is, and her success is complete. She has assumed this role—the first Oriental character that she has ever played—of the loving, deserted Japanese wife who waits patiently for the return of her faithless husband, and has acted it to perfection. Every phase of the character—the gayety, hopefulness, the motherly love, the dignity, the fidelity to the undeserving lover, the sorrow and the resignation—all are faithfully pictured. The powerful emotionalism which she puts into the tragic portrayal will make it stand head and shoulders above all her previous performances—even the immortal "Tess of the Storm Country."

DYNAMITE PLOT CASE
JUROR IN COLLAPSE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Fear that he might be impelled to throw himself from a window of the courtroom on the eighth floor of the Hall of Records by a life-long dread of heights contributed to a nervous breakdown that resulted yesterday in the elimination of Frank D. Pease of Alhambra as a juror in the Schmidt trial.

After a parley that lasted all forenoon and included examination by three physicians, Judge Willis excused Pease from the jury and the thirteenth juror, E. S. Rowley, 53 Menlo avenue, Los Angeles, took his place in the jury box and was sworn in.

HOLLYWOOD WEDDING.

Leroy Warren of This City Takes Bride, Miss Ruth Alexander, Hollywood

A charming wedding occurred last evening at the Hollywood Presbyterian church when attractive Miss Ruth Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Alexander, 1921 Hillhurst, became the bride of Leroy A. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren of this city, before a large gathering of friends numbering 150, about fifteen being from this city, including the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren and his brother, Martin Warren, and wife.

A golden color scheme beautified the church, the pews being marked by tall white columns topped with bouquets of coreopsis, these flowers being carried by the four attendants, the Misses Beryl Mitchell, Jean Alexander, Bertha Wardell and Nina McMillan, who wore dainty white net frocks, the ruffled skirts being edged in yellow taffeta. Mrs. Fred Erbes, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and was gowned in canary taffeta and carried a large white rose, while the bride was in a charming gown of white taffeta veiled with embroidered chiffon. Lilies of the valley held her veil in place, the same flower being used in her bridal bouquet. Will Warren, a brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the officiating clergyman was Rev. Marcus P. McClure, who read the Van Dyke ceremony. After a reception at the church for the relatives and wedding party the couple left for a brief honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren will leave the latter part of the week for their home in Visalia, where Mr. Warren has been instructor of manual training and coach in the high school for the past two years. He was a graduate of the 1911 class of the high school of Santa Ana, where he has lived all his life and where he has a host of staunch friends.

His beautiful bride was for two years a teacher in the Inglewood high school and the many friends of the estimable young couple will wish them all joy and happiness.

Reunion Class 1913
There will be a reunion of the S. A. H. S. class of 1913 at the home of Malcolm Tedford, 1319 North Broadway, on Thursday evening, Dec. 30, at 7:30 p. m. All 1913ers are urged to attend.

Pleasant Evening Party
Miss Alice Parker and her brother, Robert Parker, were the genial hosts at a charming little party yesterday evening at their home on East Myrtle street. Vivid poinsettias made attractive settings for the group of lively young folks, who pleasantly passed the time with guessing contests, in which Miss Fannie Smart and William Smart took the trophies. Music was also a feature of the evening. Before the guests departed they were served with dainty refreshments.

Besides the hosts, the list included Misses Pauline Parsons, Effie Douglass, Fannie Smart, Faith Shaw, Mary Ely; Messrs. T. B. Kelly, Harry Baace, Craig, G. Douglass.

A NEW YEAR'S WISH

I would like to send you a sunbeam
Or the twinkle of some bright star,
Or a tiny piece of the downy fleece
That clings to the cloud afar.
I would like to send you the essence
Of the myriad sun-kissed flowers,
Or the lilting song as it floats along,
Or a brook through fairy bowers.
I would like to send you the dewdrops
That glisten at break of day,
And then at night the eerie light
That mantles the milky way.
I would like to send you the power
That nothing can overthrow;
The power to smile and laugh
The while
As journeying through life you go.
But these are mere fanciful wishes;
I'll send you a Godspeed instead,
And I'll clasp your hand; then
You'll understand
All the things I have left unsaid.

A photo of Mrs. Rowley seated in her big arm chair "as usual" was taken during the day and will be sent to relatives and friends who could not be present in person but who thoughtfully sent cards or gifts. Among other gifts received was a quaint Chinese spectacle case sent by Miss Grace Rowley, a granddaughter, who is a missionary in China, and who hopes to be here to celebrate "Grandma" Rowley's ninety-second birthday two years hence.

Joe Weinstein, 510 East Second St., was severely burned about the face and head at about 7:30 o'clock last night when gas from a defective meter in the cellar of his home exploded. Weinstein had gone into the cellar to see what ailed the meter. When he struck a match the explosion occurred. Weinstein's face and lips were scorched and his hair singed. His injuries, though painful, are not serious.

Only slight damage was done by fire, the blaze having been extinguished by the time the fire department arrived.

SPECIAL SESSION LEGISLATURE IS ASKED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson was asked yesterday to call a special session of the legislature to straighten out the tangled question of party affiliations, whether or not registration should be required in party affiliations, by a resolution adopted unanimously by the executive committee of the County Clerks' Association of California.

Two-thirds of the fifty-eight counties of the state have prepared blanks for the declaration of party affiliations by those who register. Several of the remaining one-third are still undecided as to what to do.

The meeting was called to find a way if possible to solve the problem presented by such a difference in procedure.

Some authorities have demanded that the old primary law requiring party affiliations should be obeyed, regardless of a new law passed at the last session of the legislature abolishing such declarations of party. Others have held to a strict interpretation of the letter of the law and the non-party registration feature.

The law which has resulted in the confusion of the question was one of the non-partisan measures adopted by the legislature and against which the referendum, which defeated the principal measures, was not invoked.

The association voted several weeks ago in favor of not recording party affiliation.

Both Henry A. Pfister, County Clerk of Santa Clara county, president of the association, and Joseph H. Nash, secretary, said that every effort would be made by the County Clerks to legitimately delay registration until the legislature had acted upon the matter. It was taken for granted that Governor Johnson would issue the call for a special session.

FOR CHILDREN'S COUGH
You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balms. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poison from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is antiseptic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation. Don't put off treatment. Coughs and colds often lead to serious lung troubles. It is also good for adults and the aged. Get a bottle today. All druggists.

—Why buy a "six" and be sorry when you want a "four"? The Saxon "Six" at $885 here is as economical as any of them—21 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Have a look. Call 1193, Russell Motor Sales Co., Fifth and Bush.

1915 REVIEW OF THE WAR

BY BOND P. GEDDES (UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—An epochal year in the world's history, marked 1915. Serious crises marked the twelve months; and more than in any year since the war began, the world was threatened with a new world war. The year passed safely through the vortex of the world war and the tangled skein of war politics, though often very near severing relations with European powers. Its peace has been threatened from within and without.

This country faces in the new year more delicate problems, including new and old disputes with Europe's belligerents.

The killing of over 100 Americans on the high seas, destruction, seizure and attacks upon American vessels, ruthless confiscation of American property and interference with foreign commerce; dismissal of foreign diplomats, resignation of its own secretary of state, and European criticism of its neutrality were the outstanding events of 1915 in American world events.

Peaceful settlement of the dispute with Austria over her attack upon the Italian liner Ancona, with England over her trade interference, with Germany over the Lusitania incident and with the reclusive powers over neutral commerce in this country were the quietest of dominant and delicate problems facing us in 1915.

Red letter days on the 1915 calendar were:

May 1.—England's blockade of Germany; May 7, sinking of the Lusitania; June 9, Secretary Bryan's resignation; Aug. 10, recall of Austrian Ambassador Dumba; Oct. 4, half billion loan to the allies; Nov. 9, sinking of the Ancona; Dec. 3, recall of German Captains Boy-Ed and Von Papen.

These and numberless other engagements of the war caused Uncle Sam to break all records in diplomatic note writing. Hundreds of notes were sent. The chief year's diplomatic victory was the enforced modification by Germany of her submarine warfare.

Today the United States stands with increased power and prestige, but still weighted with the task of perfecting peaceful settlements with England, France, Germany and Austria in most delicate and difficult complications. The passing year was a chronicle of the more important international events follows:

January 5.—United States agrees with England to certify non-combatant cargoes. Jan. 8, England denied unduly seizing American ships; Jan. 11, England protested transfer of cotton steamer Dacia from German to United States registry; Jan. 28, American schooner William P. Frye sunk by German raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

February 5.—Because of German government confiscating all food stuffs, England seized American grain steamer Wilhelmina; 11, United States warned England and Germany not to abuse use of American flag or attack American ships; 16, German submarine blockade of England ships; 18, British note denies American commerce injured; 19, German note rejected American protest against sinking neutral ships in war zone; 20, two notes from England affirmed right to seize steamer Wilhelmina and promised limited use of American flag; 21, American cotton steamer Evelyn sunk by mine, one American killed; 23, American cotton steamer Carib sunk by mine, two Americans killed; 27, Government began probing supplying of German warships from New York by Hamburg-American line officials; 28, France seized Dacia. March 19.—German raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich arrived at Newport News and later interned; 28, Leon Tarasher, American, killed when German submarine torpedoed British steamer Falaba.

April 1.—France $50,000,000 loan negotiated; 5, United States asks Germany for reparation for schooner William P. Frye; 6, France released August Pippenbink, German seized on American steamer. Note to England declares German blockade illegal; 7, Prinz Eitel Friedrich interned, Germany protested against steamer Odenwald's detention at San Juan, Porto Rico; 11, German raider Krotprinz Wilhelm reached Newport News; 12, Germany protests against American munitions sales to allies; 21, State Department advises Germany munitions sales are made by legal right; 26, Kronprinz Wilhelm interned.

May 1.—Lusitania sailed from New York despite German embassy warnings; 3, American steamer Guilford torpedoed by German submarine off Sicily lies, three Americans killed; 7, Lusitania torpedoed by German submarine, 114 Americans killed; 13, United States note to Germany demands reparations and cessation of submarine warfare; 15, ships carrying non-combatants; 25, American steamer Nebraska sunk by mine or torpedo; 30, American delivere reply note to Ambassador Gerard regarding Lusitania, alleging vessel armed.

June 5.—German notes regret attack on Cushing and Guilford; 9, Secretary of State, Bryan resigns; 10, United States sends second Lusitania note to Germany holding her to strict accountability; 25, England refuses to abandon German blockade; 29, Canadian liner Armenian torpedoed, two young American hostiles being killed.

July 7.—Navy Department takes control of German wireless plant at Sayville, L. I.; 16, Austria in note protests against munitions sales to allies; 18, Canadian Ordnance successfully chased by submarine; 23, United States sends third Lusitania note to Germany, advising that a repetition will be considered "deliberately unfriendly"; 17, American steamer Lee-lanaw submarined, crew saved.

August 4.—Three notes from England uphold orders-in-council, German blockade and American commerce interference. Note from Germany demands sinking schooner William P. Frye, but agrees to payment of damages; 16, United States advises Austria that munitions sales are legal. Correspondence revealing operations of German agents published; 19, Arabian torpedoed, two Americans killed.

September 1.—Ambassadors Bernstorff notified State Department Germany agrees to sink no more liners without warning; 2, James F. J. Archibald's arrest at Falmouth discloses carrying documents for Austrian Ambassador Dumba, and Captain Von Papen; 3, Cardinal Gibbons presents Pope's peace plea to President Wilson; 4, British ship Hesperian torpedoed or mined; 9, German delivers note declaring Arabian attacked German submarine; 10, United States demands Austrian Ambassador Dumba's recall; 17, England seizes $15,000,000 worth of American meat cargoes; 24, England agrees to release American goods held at Rotterdam; 29, Anglo-French half-billion loan negotiated.

MOTHER ROBBED BY RED TAPE OF DEAD
SON'S LOST LETTER

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Scores of incidents of the war have failed to arouse British public opinion more than the official red tape that has lost a soldier's last letter.

The envelope in which the soldier dispatched a letter from the front, just before he was killed, was received by the mother. Enclosed was the following notice from the censor:

"Letter obsolete. This pattern of envelope is obsolete and its use is forbidden."

The previous day the War Office had notified the mother of the death of her son.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Berries are very scarce at present and prices have been advanced so frequently of late that ruling quotations are almost prohibitive. Strawberries and blackberries are now worth 14 to 15 cents a basket and raspberries are all but off the market at 15 to 16 cents per basket. Green lima, wax and string beans are all higher in price, the first named now selling for 8 to 9 cents a pound and the two latter bringing 10 to 12 cents per pound. Peas are more expensive at 10 to 15 cents a pound and tomatoes have been boosted to $1.00 and $1.10 a lug. Mexican chiles are now in the market and are selling for 16 cents a pound. Quality is good and there is a fair demand for the foreign named commodity. Brown Globe onions were advanced Tuesday to $1.90 and $2.00 a hundred-weight. White globes are firmer and the lug price has been raised to $1.25.

GENERAL THOMAS FAVORS SWISS SYSTEM OF TRAINING

great danger of the United States going to war, for the reason that I have just stated."

Following are a number of opinions of local people regarding military training and the reported proposition of the War Department to urge Congress to create a citizen army with a view to eventually inaugurating universal training.

ASSEMBLYMAN J. C. BURKE:

"This question of preparedness that the present Congress now faces is one of the most important. I think that Congress can safely be trusted to do what is best. The committee on the subject in all its details and may be depended upon to meet all contingencies. It will be up to Congress to decide the question of what particular form of military training will work out to the best advantage. Personally, I think that military training in the high schools would be a splendid thing. At the last session of the state legislature I supported a bill making it compulsory for school children to salute the flag once daily. I also favored the bill making military training in high schools compulsory. When the army officers who favored the latter bill stated in their arguments for it that it takes at least seven months to train a man to march, my eyes were opened. I do not think that military training in the high schools would necessarily instill a war-like spirit in the students. Drills and marches, introduced as a part of the regular athletic training of the high school student would be a good thing. The student would be made more manly and he would be valuable to his country in time of war."

GEORGE W. MINTER: "I think that military training should be introduced into the high schools. If this were done, the necessity of compulsory service in this country would be obviated. There is no doubt whatever that those students who attend military schools are better disciplined and more manly than those who attend schools where military training is not in vogue. I believe that military training should be as much a part of high school life as athletics."

GENERAL F. H. CASE: "I think that the War Department's reported proposition to urge Congress to create a citizen army and eventually to introduce universal military service is a capital one. The United States has learned by experience and by the lessons of the European war that the principal of compulsory military service works out satisfactorily. What universal military service will do is amply set forth by the experience of Germany. I think military instruction should be a part of the regular high school training, but on the whole I think that after a few years it would become popular. My opinion may not coincide with those of many people, of course, but military instruction is a good thing; it is beneficial outside of the military knowledge that the student gains. The advantage of military schools is very apparent. If military instruction were to be inaugurated in the high schools, I am sure that everyone soon would recognize the benefits that would accrue to the students."

CAPTAIN J. L. McBRIDE: "I do not think that the War Department's plan of eventually inaugurating compulsory military training is a good one. I am not in favor of it. I think that it is unnecessary. The War Department, in my opinion, could obtain the same results by starting with the high schools, making military training in high schools compulsory. The government should make it worth while for those who go into it. The government should spend enough money to give the students some real instruction and to give them a military camp in the summer. It is my judgment that the third and fourth year high school students should be given military instruction. If the government really would take hold of the matter and appropriate enough money to allow the boys to go into camp each summer, I venture to say that at least seventy-five per cent of the boys would be hearty for military training. The government should also take hold of the National Guard, develop it and expand it. In these ways the same results could be obtained without the friction and dissatisfaction that would obtain if compulsory military service were invoked."

E. M. NEALLEY: "On the spur of the moment, I should say that I think a citizen army would be a good thing. However, I have not gone deeply enough into the matter to express a full opinion."

DR. G. H. DOBSON: "While I am strongly in favor of peace and hope for the ultimate formation of an international peace congress, and cannot see why one nation should prepare for war against another any more than one state against another, until the time comes for a world peace I am in favor of preparedness. I should be in favor of teaching young men between the ages of 18 and 30 the use of arms and military tactics, so that they might be used in case of emergency."

SEA CASE EVIDENCE POINTS TO MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Evidence pointing strongly to the theory of murder was scheduled to be considered this morning at the autopsy ordered by Coroner Hartwell in the case of Peter Anderson, whose body was washed up by the surf December 20 at Playa del Rey.

In the opinion of Deputy Sheriff Van Vleet and Dennison, who worked on the case yesterday, Anderson's body was thrown into the ocean after his death had been caused by a blow from some sharp instrument.

50-YEAR-OLD WOUND ENDS VETERAN'S LIFE

HOUSTON, Tex.—Felix O. Yates, 76 years old, died at his home here some time ago as a result of a wound received during the battle of Gettysburg more than half a century ago.

Felix Yates was a Confederate soldier and at the battle of Gettysburg was wounded in the leg. Recurring abscesses proved too much for his vitality, and physicians said were the indirect cause of his death.

CROWN STAGE IS BACK TO FRAY AGAINST P. E.

Owners Jit Busses Say Public Can Put Them Out Of Business If Wish To

Editor Register: The Crown Stage wishes to answer the article written by W. V. Hill, P. E. tax and contract agent.

He acknowledges that no doubt we are paying more than 60 per cent taxes on our investment. We again ask is it just? He offers no reason why the jitney should be taxed beyond reason, except a desire on the part of the electric line that the jitney bus be eliminated, to the exclusive benefit of the electric line, no consideration whatever being shown to the general public.

He says that statements of this kind only beloud the issue, but he does not say how, nor does he state what the issue is. The public is certainly not complaining. If it was, it could put the jitney busses out of business in a day by refusing to patronize them.

We gave the exact figures to prove our claim, which Mr. Hill makes no effort to discredit.

Mr. Hill makes the deliberate misstatement that the jitney bus runs one day to one place and another day to another place, which is impossible as a business getter. If Mr. Hill knows anything at all about the jitney busses he knows that the Crown Stage maintains and has maintained for a long time, absolutely dependable schedules to the different cities we go to. We are astonished that a man in his position would endeavor to beloud our position by such misstatements and expect many readers of this paper to believe them, when they know by actual experience what he claims is not correct.

He fails to mention that people going to Newport and Balboa on the electric line are obliged to wait about two hours between trains and transfer at Huntington Beach and frequently wait there for a Los Angeles train to Newport, which is probably already overloaded, compelling the women and children to stand the rest of the journey, also that they frequently are obliged to wait in Huntington Beach one hour, if they happen to miss connections, which means a two-and-a-half-hour journey one way and two-and-a-half back, thereby entirely spoiling an outing to the beach, while the Crown Stage goes to Newport and Balboa every hour during the winter months and gets the people there in thirty to thirty-five minutes and that without a transfer. We ask which service would most any one prefer? Also everyone has a seat. Sometimes it is on a door, but that is more than the electric lines frequently furnish.

He says we take out a license for each city we go to, for each car and that is proof that the service is not dependable. We ask him, does the mere fact that a license is taken out prove anything? We say that it does not, but the service we give does prove that we maintain the schedule. We also have extra cars to take care of the public when travel is heavy. We also believe that the public has often wished the P. E. did the same thing, which it could have done very easily, for which it would not have been taxed beyond reason for so doing, but would be taxed according to the business the car did, while we are taxed unreasonably high when we put on an extra car to take care of the public. It makes no difference if it takes in a five-cent piece, we have to pay out $269 a year on it, while the electric company can buy a car and not pay a cent of tax unless the car actually earns the money for them. What other business has this privilege?

We ask, what does the P. E. do for Laguna Beach, Tustin, Anaheim and Fullerton? Where they give no service whatever to Santa Ana, while we give a service every fifteen minutes to some parts and hourly service to others? We ask, can the electric company render this service or anywhere near it? We say they cannot. The electric line will go only in thickly settled districts.

Because the electric will not enter these districts, should the people in these communities be robbed of this great convenience of rapid travel, simply because it does not require an enormous investment?

Mr. Hill says the jitney bus requires no investment beyond the vehicle. Well, suppose it does not, is that a crime? Is that a good reason why the people who are served by it receive great benefit and convenience if it should be robbed of that comfort, simply because the P. E. has a couple of thousand dollars invested on which it has already received enormous returns and it has treated the public very arbitrarily and frequently gave poor accommodations, allowing the public to hang on straps and be crowded to the limit when it could have done better?

It's only a few years since electric cars were a complete failure. It's only a couple of years since the jitneys started. It's only a year since it was a novelty. Developments are rapid these days and no one can go into the jitney business on a shoestring. It requires many cars and sound business system and principles. Mr. Hill says the P. E. pays 54 per cent taxes to the state, which is the equivalent paid by the individual taxpayers. Why should the jitney pay more? The P. E. contends that the jitney should be taxed out of business so that the dear public would be compelled to patronize the P. E., and those living in remote places could walk or get to the electric lines any way they see fit. The P. E. should worry.

The people in Orange before there was such a thing as a jitney, gave a bonus to the electric line to come in there for rapid transportation. Do you suppose for one moment that they would do that today? They would not, because the jitney is better.

Mr. Hill fails to enlighten the public of what benefit it is going to be to them to do away with the jitney or

TEARS, WOMAN'S WILES AVAIL HER NOUGHT

Justice Cox Obdurate Though Fair Speeder Pleads To Be Let Off

In Justice Cox's court, when a man or a woman is found guilty of speeding, no power in the land is effective to induce the Justice to be lenient. No matter in what walk of life a person may be, if he is convicted of driving his automobile faster than the law allows, he must take his medicine as far as Justice Cox is concerned.

Today a handsome woman, Mrs. Kokoa B. Conrad of Los Angeles was found guilty of speeding.

Mrs. Conrad pleaded that she had two children in Los Angeles and that one was suffering from croup and that for these reasons she should be let off, in her estimation.

Justice Cox proved adamant. He turned a deaf ear to the fair Angeleno's wiles and pleadings.

"Police Chief Snively of Los Angeles is a friend of mine," said Mrs. Conrad. "One of my children is sick and I think you ought to take this into consideration and let me off."

The Justice stuck to his decision that Mrs. Conrad must pay her $10 fine.

Finally the handsome speeder burst into tears, but to no avail. The Justice was not to be moved.

The fine was paid.

Says He Will Appeal
O. Davidson of Los Angeles was not at all pleased yesterday when Justice Cox found him guilty of cutting in front of a machine driven by L. E. Smith of West Orange. Davidson was ordered fined $10. He said he would appeal.

Found Not Guilty
Justice Cox found James Callahan not guilty of a charge of driving an automobile while he was intoxicated.

Although several witnesses testified against Callahan, others testified for him, and declared he was not intoxicated when he was arrested by Officers Pond and John Ryan. Ryan said Callahan was so much intoxicated that he nearly fell down. Callahan said the reason he nearly fell down was because the policeman grabbed hold of him and gave him a jerk. Attorney Rutan appeared for the defendant.

Charge Speeding
The motorcops have sworn to speeding complaints against the following: A. Cohen, San Francisco; J. S. Edwards, Upland; A. M. Morton, San Francisco; C. P. Young, Claremont; H. Prentice, San Diego; K. B. Conrad, Los Angeles; J. H. Ellis, Pasadena; F. He. Bromm, El Centro.

Accuses Logsdon
E. L. Deacon, one of the owners of the Crown stages, has sworn to a complaint against Logsdon, a Star stage driver. Deacon alleges that Logsdon stuck a knife into a Crown stage tire. The charge is the outcome of a controversy between the Crown and Star stages.
